

Animal Whisperer: Wild Conversations is for animal lovers who know that our fur, finned, scaled, and feathered companions are sentient beings who can think, feel, and communicate with us. In this book, they offer messages through the author, using their own language, telepathy to pass on their points of view.

You'll meet cats who agreed to come inside at dusk, defying their desires to be nocturnal, as a gift to their beloved people. Meet Dokie, a dog whose people wanted him to stop digging, but Dokie wanted his people to know how much he loved that activity. The dog offered a perfect solution to resolve this conflict. Hear about a cow who endured the trauma of two stillborn births but complied with Suzan's request to embrace and nurture an orphaned 2-month-old calf. Many species are represented, including horses, rodents, felines, canines, and aquatic animals.

These stories are about the negotiations Animal Communication Specialist and Author Suzan Vaughn has made, and the animals have kept. With over 25 years as an animal communicator and 30-plus years as an intuitive counselor, Suzan has vast anecdotal evidence. For the skeptic, several highly educated and experienced animal communicators offer their views after many years of practice in this emerging field.

Animal Whisperer: Wild Conversations illustrates how telepathy works in our profession and offers evidence of this ancient mind-to-mind silent language of the heart and soul.
